

THREE WHAT'S

Our Method

What

We simplify and summarise ideas, research and success stories for busy leaders and decision-makers. By scanning the high-performance landscape, we can isolate the issues and challenges which matter most. Curiosity then takes us to places where we ask the hard questions; those which beg answers, the ones which hang around. By doing so we share our knowledge and experience of working with high performing individuals, teams and organisations.

So What?

Our method is always the same. Ask the right questions, in the right way to provide solutions.

Source – we scan the environment and try and find inspirational practice

Slow – we take time to scrutinise what we find

Simplify and Shorten – we simplify what can be complex and make it easy to access

Share -we share what we do though a variety of channels

Now What?

We present our solutions so you can use them. We curate our work into different high-performance topics and for each we provide

- Sketchbooks – summary posters of all our guidance
- Playbooks – practical guidance manuals
- Stories – video case studies of success
- Snapshots – the best books reviewed on one page

We bring fresh perspectives. We want to build a diverse and inclusive community of like-minded people who wish to share their experiences and insights. Join us at www.threewhats.com

“Ideas, research and success stories summarised for busy leaders and decision makers.”